Melaco Flexibility

Your Design Advantage

Melaco's new range combines fresh colors, innovative profiles, and designs that open up completely new design possibilities.

A wide range of colors and textures allows designers to freely combine fronts with laminated boards offered by well-known manufacturers, achieving full visual consistency and a harmonious composition of any interior.

New profiles allow you to break the routine—instead of simple, uniform surfaces, forms with greater depth and individual style are emerging. Thanks to this, furniture can be not only functional, but also impressive and memorable.

All of the new products presented are the result of Melaco's production flexibility, which has been one of its greatest strengths for years.

It allows us to respond quickly to market trends and needs – both in terms of colors and profiles.

For furniture manufacturers, flexibility means easier composition of entire collections and assurance of stylistic consistency – fronts, moldings, and laminated boards form a uniform whole. It also means the possibility of shortening the design process and greater freedom in order fulfillment.

Interior designers, on the other hand, gain a wide range of solutions that allow them to implement the most demanding concepts – from minimalist designs to classic arrangements full of detail.

The wealth of profiles, structures and colors means that any idea can be translated into a final product.
